Restrictions:

- Username and email are unique for each user and admin.
- The tuple of a book stores only one version of the book that is added by a certain user. If another user added the book I will consider it as another instance.
- Each book has one category.
- There are no two seminars on the same date with the same topic name.
- A publisher or a shipping company can have many addresses and many phone numbers as it has several branches.
- The book has only one author and one publisher.
- If a user offered a book to buy he will specify the price.
- If a user offered a book to borrow he will specify the period the other user will take the book for.

NOTE: we separated the ER into 2 parts to be readable.
